FASSIFERN.

Far from the throngs that we sometimes meet

Apart somewhat from the village street,

Surrounded by hills that gently rise

Sunbeamed in winter by her daughters eyes

In winter blest by her teachers wise,

For her may blessing be the fruit;

Each year may she her strength recruit,

Ring in New-year your happy meetings,

Nor shall we fall in love lent greetings.

Sure of a Welcome Wherever It Goes

THE HOME NEWSPAPER is the most interesting reading matter one can obtain. There is nothing else like it.

NEXT TO A LETTER, THE HOME NEWSPAPER IS THE MOST ENTERTAINING THING IN THE WORLD FOR ONE LOCATED IN A DISTANT CITY. IT IS JUST AS INTERESTING WHILE WE ARE AT HOME, ALTHOUGH WE ARE NOT WONT TO APPRECIATE THIS FACT. IT IS OVERLOOKED BECAUSE IT HAS BECOME A PART OF OUR DAILY LIFE, JUST AS MUCH SO AS THE ALLOTTED THREE MEALS A DAY.

No one who FORMS THE HABIT of reading the HOME NEWSPAPER will ever give it up. No one is willing to MISS THE PLEASURES thus derived. No one is willing to deprive himself of the intimate knowledge of his neighbors' successes and failures, joys and sorrows, trials and tribulations.

There is NO OTHER MEDIUM that can take the place of the HOME NEWSPAPER. Aside from giving the news of the whole world, it gives us something THAT CAN BE OBTAINED NOWHERE ELSE. It gives us all the little incidents in the daily life of our friends and neighbors, of those people we go through life with, arm in arm. It tells of their progress. It tells of their social life. It tells of the weddings, parties, clubs, church societies, etc. It tells who is visiting. It tells who is sick and heralds their recovery.

THESE LITTLE PERSONAL ITEMS CREATE A HOME NEWSPAPER. THESE LITTLE FACTS ABOUT THE PEOPLE WE ENBOW THROUGH LIFE WITH ARE FAR MORE INTERESTING THAN SOME "BIG STORY" FROM A DISTANT CITY. THIS IS WHAT MAKES THE HOME NEWSPAPER.

free life, in ideally beautiful and healthful surroundings, at practically no expense except their subsistence. This the opening of the park will afford to thousands of people, who otherwise might not be able to avail themselves of such advantages, all of the real pleasures and profits of an expensive summer outing.

Mount Mitchell, from which the park takes its name, is one of the grandest upheavals on the Western Hemisphere, its summit is lifted 6,711 feet into a sky of deepest azure. It is the loftiest peak in Eastern North America. For ages it has stood in primeval solitude and solemn grandeur, while above and around and beneath, the clouds have swept and storms have raved.

From its top is disclosed a panorama of scenery or surpassing beauty. Below, Nature has given great gorges and built everlasting cliffs; and the neighboring peaks of the Black Mountains, many of them ranging about six thousand feet and clad in the dark rich green of the balsam, rank worthily with the giant Mitchell. Across the marvelous Asheville Plateau, of an average altitude of 2,200 feet, is the summit of the Blue Ridge, where such wonderful peaks as the Dome the Pinnacle and the Bull's Head toss their tops into the sky, and, in the purpling distance, are such mountain wonders as Table Rock, Roan, Grandfather, Tennessee Bald, Pisgah and scores of others, which "Loom grander far than any sea."

In the opening to the people of the Mount Mitchell National Reserve, the Government has conferred no greater blessing upon the nature lovers of the United States, and it is expected by the Forest Service, in co-operation with the Southern Railway, to make it one of the most convenient and delightful pleasure resorts in the world.

Washington, Feb. 8.—(Special)—Re-enactment of the Weeks Forestry Law, under which the federal government has acquired more than one million acres of mountain timber land for the protection of navigable streams and the perpetuation of the forests, was urged upon Congress by Senator John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts, last week, at a hearing before the House committee on agriculture.

"Congress determined the policy of the government with regard to the protection of navigable streams when it prepared the original law appropriating $8,000,000 for this purpose, and the question now before us is whether this policy shall be continued. On account of the great care exercised by the government agents in securing perfect titles to the land acquired, and in the selection of the areas to be purchased, $3,000,000 of the money authorized for expenditure during the first two years of the law's operation remains unused, and it seems to me that that amount, at least, should be re-appropriated for the continuance of this work."

"I have a very deep interest in this legislation and my judgment in favor of it has never wavered. This is not a temporary work. It is far reaching, and should be continued. This law is just as necessary to the states not possessed of forests as it is to the states immediately affected, for the time will eventually come when every acre of land not suitable for agricultural purposes must be devoted to the growth of timber. The protection of standing timber from fire, which is provided under law, will itself repay the government for every cent of money that is appropriated for the acquisition of the lands, and, in this general direction, I think Congress should at least re-appropriate the unexpended balance of the original appropriation."

Senator Weeks will also urge the re-enactment of the forestry bill in the Senate when the agricultural appropriation bill reaches that body. He said today that the original law had operated admirably, and that the proposed re-enactment had many enthusiastic supporters.

ANNIVERSARY AT FRUITLAND. Preparation is being made for the crowning event of the school year at the literary institute, so far as the work of the literary societies is concerned. The boys are now hard at work on their orations and speeches. The anniversary of the Philosophian and Chi literary societies will be held February 22nd, Washington's birthday.

The question for debate at the anniversary exercises will be: "Resolved that the United States should adopt the policy of greatly increasing its navy. Those who will speak on the affirmative are Coy Orr of Henderson county and W. B. Yates of Robeson county. The negative will be upheld by J. Hampton Brown of Buncombe county and Joe Capps of Henderson county. Orations will be delivered by Mr. George Starns of Asheville and Charles Sinclair of Fruitland. Mr. Starns' subject is "Efficiency, the Key-note of Success." That of Mr. Sinclair, "America's Greatest Enemies."
